18th Century Landmark Razed

Bethel lost another reminder of its early history Saturday afternoon when the long-time Frank Bartlett shop at the foot of Mill Hill was razed and burned. Built in the late 1700's, the building was in use for over 150 years, and was probably the last evidence of settlers' activities other than cemeteries and outlines of early dams and roads.

In its early years it housed the carding and woolen mill of Eleazer Twitchell. For more than 125 years it was a carriage and blacksmith shop, operated by Moses T. Cross and Pinckney Burnham, then for nearly half of its years the same business was continued by Frank C. Bartlett and his son, Frank E. Bartlett. After the death of the latter in 1958, the property was acquired by Rodney Brooks who made trellises, picket fences and furniture. The building became unsafe and was beyond repair when destroyed by its last owner, Harold Rolfe.

The power offered in the fall of Mill Brook here, where three dams within a half mile harnessed the stream, attracted early industry to this area. In this vicinity were located for many years the grist mill, sawmill, woolen mill, starch factory and tannery. Water power was in use until the sawmill of I. S. Morrill & Son ceased operations about 50 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bartlett of Bath were overnight guests Tuesday of Mrs. Grace Bartlett.

Ernest Pelletier, Jr., who taught at Crescent Park School, Bethel, last year will teach English and social studies at the Paris building, Oxford Hills School, this coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Meserve and children, Jackie and Loreta, have returned to Hingham, Mass., after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Brooks in camp at Hutchinson Pond.

First traffic was routed over the new bridge and approaches at 2:53 Monday afternoon. Some confusion resulted as few directional signs were in place. All travel is not yet in the final locations but little delay is caused by operations at present.

Mrs. Robert Clemons and Rachel Keniston are at Methodist Camp in Winthrop this week.

Mrs. Clayton Kendall, Mrs. Edmund Smith and Mrs. Carl Brown were guests of Mrs. Mildred Heath in Woodsville, N. H., Wednesday.

Stanley Fox and family have purchased and moved to the former home of Harold Bean on Bridge Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rowe and daughter, Kathy, of East Weymouth, Mass., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Brooks.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiley and family, who are staying at the Ames camp on South Pond were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Slickney, Peter and Chris, of Salem, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robie and Debbie of Millis, Mass., and Kenneth Robie of Augusta.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The state aid reconstruction job for this year will be on the Sunday River Road. There will be about 1200 feet of road reconstructed. This will cut out two bad corners and one hill. The road will be easier to plow and safer to drive over when the reconstruction is completed. The state foreman in charge of the job is finishing up another job this week and will probably start our job around the middle of next week.

The town highway crew had to lower the sewer on the lower end of Church Street. The sewer was in the way of the state surface drains so we had to lower the sewer. We had the alternative of lowering the outlet of our surface drain but that would have been a bigger job than lowering the sewer pipe.

I had the pleasure of attending one day of the tax collectors school at Scarborough on July 23. The session was attended by about 65 tax collectors from the western part of the state. The morning panel discussion dealt with excise taxes and afternoon subject was real and personal taxes. The last subject of the afternoon was an interesting and informative talk on the legal aspects of tax collection delivered by F. Chapman, legal counsel for the Maine Municipal Association.

Michael Houlihan

The Alton Luxtons spent several days at South Pond last week.

Hugh Thurston has been confined to his home by illness for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kordana of Cheshire, Mass., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mundt, Peggy and Debra, spent the week end in Westbrook as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cragin. Mrs. Cragin returned home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Norrine Balocco of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, Carlene and Michael, of East Meadow, N. Y., have returned home after a 10 days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown were hosts to a family gathering at their home on Eden Lane Sunday. A cook out was enjoyed. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown, Laurel, Nancy and Rebecca, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, Danna and Kurt, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brown, David, Kathleen, Carol and Robert Jack, John Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Benson and Andrew, and the host and hostess.

STATISTICS FOR PRIMARY ELECTION LISTED

Complete statistics of the contested offices of the primary election of June 18 will be found in this issue. Successful candidates were listed in the Citizen of June 21 but correct figures were not available at that time.

Besides county officers, the only contests were the choice of a Democratic candidate for governor and Republican candidate for representative to legislature in the Fryeburg district. Town figures for the latter contest between Richard L. Dunn of Denmark and Fred M. Walker of Brownfield are included.

Figures on Page Seven.

GOOD NEWS FOR AUG. 4

State-wide roadside art exhibits attract throngs and give a pleasant impression of Vacationland.

The wholesome and cultural hobby of painting pictures is flourishing in Bethel. An enthusiastic public is eager for a viewing.

On Mollykett Day the Chapman Barn will be in gala form. Local artists will display their year's work. Many pictures are for sale.

The accompanying arrangements of garden flowers are worth seeing.

Details and conditions will be in next week's Citizen.

BRYANT POND YOUTH TAKES BASIC AT GREAT LAKES

William E. Taylor, Jr., ward of Mr. and Mrs. Howard MacKillop of Bryant Pond is undergoing nine weeks of basic recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The indoctrination to Navy life began on July 5. It consists of physical fitness drills, military drills, basic military law, customs and etiquette of the naval service, swimming and survival, first aid and basic shipboard routine.

During the training, recruits receive tests and interviews which determine future training and assignments in the Navy.

"It's trashy to sit on your porch in your undershirt, but it's gracious living if you've got nothing on but shorts." — Wayneboro (Miss.) Wayne County News.

"That great American institution the coffee break, is a red flag, indicating that too many workers eat a breakfast too skimpy to last them through the morning. Nutritionists point out that a meal of coffee and a sweet roll is an invitation to the kind of mid-morning let-down that boosts industrial accidents and lowers efficiency in the office." — Executive Digest.

Nat. Training Labs to Open 3d Series Sun. With Three Programs

On Sunday NTL opens the third series of training programs scheduled at Gould Academy and NTL's Conference Center this summer. Delegates coming from all parts of the country will be in session through Friday, August 10. Three programs will run concurrently — one for a mixed group coming from many occupations and backgrounds for basic human relations training; one for school executives; and one for classroom teachers.

The school executives program builds on last year's experience with a similar program as well as NTL's sixteen years of work with management development programs for industry, national organizations, government agencies, etc. The school executives come to NTL for training motivated by awareness that highly complex school systems today demand sensitive, competent leadership. Problems to be dealt with in addition to improved interpersonal relationships, include developing teamwork among the various groups making up the school population, improving school-community relations, creating work situations which encourage creativity and shared responsibility, and maximum use of available resources.

The classroom teachers are especially interested in developing new classroom practices which will encourage students to accept responsibility for their own learning. They will be interested in acquiring greater skill in working with groups, since every class is also a group of individuals who will learn more if they learn how to work together and to help each other in learning.

The final training session for this year in Bethel will be the annual conference at NTL's Conference Center for top executives in business and industry. This is scheduled from September 3 through Friday, September 14.

During recent weeks the Conference Center facilities have been expanded with new accommodations in the main house. The garage has been renovated to provide additional conference rooms and to house NTL's recently acquired IBM equipment for processing research data accumulated on the results of the training programs.

MONEY-SAVERS

Answers to 8 questions on car care that Shell dealers often hear

Shell dealers answer thousands of questions every year. Here are 8 that crop up all the time. The answers have helped many motorists save money. They may do the same for you.

1 What's that funny noise I hear? All cars make some noise. But be particularly alert for any squeals, squeaks, clicks, or rattles that crop up suddenly. Could be anything from a sticking valve lifter to a loose wheel lug. Ask your Shell dealer to help you track down any unusual noise. You may save yourself a big repair bill later on.

2 How can I get more mileage from my tires? Rotate all tires, including the spare, every 6,000 miles. Drive at moderate speeds. Tires can wear twice as fast at 70 miles per hour as at 45. Avoid fast cornering. "jackrabbit" starts, sudden stops. Try not to bang tires against curbs. And check your tire pressure frequently.

3 Do I really need a lube job every thousand miles? Yes—unless you have one of the newer models that doesn't require it. But with any car, remember that frequent lubrication offers your serviceman a chance to spot trouble before it costs you a lot of money. That's why Shell dealers give you a bumper-to-bumper inspection with every Shell lubrication.

4 Can knock hurt my engine? Usually it's more annoying than harmful. But persistent knocking hampers performance and can lead to engine damage. That's why Shell scientists are such sticklers about knock. They even listen for it with stethoscopes and insist that Super Shell contain no fewer than three knock-fighting ingredients.

5 How can I make my battery last longer? Here are four suggestions: 1. Let your Shell dealer check your car's electrical system. Worn wires and loose connections can drain power. 2. Always maintain battery water to the proper level. 3. Avoid prolonged idling with radio turned on. 4. Go driving! Long drives help charge your battery.

6 What does TCP do? Shell's unique TCP* is a combustion control additive. The hot piston device above shows one way TCP works. The glowing deposit on the left has not been neutralized with TCP. In your engine, glowing deposits can ignite fuel too soon, wasting fuel and power. Deposit on right has been "fireproofed" by TCP. No glow — no power loss.

7 How often should I change oil? The American Petroleum Institute recommends an oil change every 30 days in winter, every 60 days during summer.

Note: New Shell X-100® Premium is the first premium motor oil that leaves no additive ash deposits. It fights four other internal troubles that can shorten engine life.

8 Why do my tires wear out on just one side? Most likely cause: wheels out of alignment. Result: your tires drag against the road and wear unevenly. Unbalanced wheels can also cause uneven wear and make your car shake or shimmy. That's why it's a good idea to keep tires balanced and have wheel alignment checked twice a year.

Now a question for you

Is your car giving you top performance? If there's any doubt in your mind, try a tankful of today's Super Shell. It contains 9 ingredients including a gum preventive, three knock-fighters, "cat-cracked" gasoline, a mileage booster, an anti-icer, quick-starting Butane, and Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive, Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 289212.

EDITORIAL

We are told by some of our readers occasionally, and have learned from articles written by other authorities, that an important function of weekly newspapers is to feature a regular editorial column. It is not at all likely that the editor's opinions are of great consequence, but some people feel that such expressions may serve to spark or support timely changes or improvements. Presumably any such changes suggested will give rise to contrary expressions or a little support.

Bethel folks have long considered themselves both progressive and conservative. And apparently the same people take pride in both of these claims. In general they have really taken somewhat of a middle path. That is, they have "conformed." So they have not been so different as they would like to have others think they are.

For instance, 70 years ago they fell in with many other similar size communities in establishing a good fire-fighting group, and at the end of the district school area they stepped ahead with a central school building which included half a dozen former schools. Both of these changes cost plenty in taxes and caused much discussion.

Through the years there has been a group who have been resentful of suggestions from outsiders. This category is a vague and uncertain designation—the "outsider" may be an interested and well-intentioned traveler, or a summer resident, or a person who has lived in town less than 30 years.

In reviewing local newspapers of many years ago we find letters to the editors in lament over varied eyesores, pointing out possibilities for obvious betterment ignored by year-around natives. These conditions have been corrected, perhaps because of the views of others or the shame of our own offenders.

There is no better time than now to try to improve the local scene. Much can be accomplished at little or no cost. Pride in our community is a first essential. We can't get far without it. Let us continue both progressive and conservative, but with little discord. Let's welcome the suggestions, enjoy the interest and friendliness of our newcomers, and try to accept inevitable change with an open mind.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

The following letter was given to us by the mother of its writer. It is refreshing to know of the attitude of some of our visitors in regard to our town and people. We hope that this will encourage local folks to a more lively show of appreciation toward our many visitors.

Dear Bethel, Maine:
I hope we come back to you next year. I miss Cincinnati but I love you. I love the pine trees and the boys. The mountains and my girl friends and boy friends. I love the house we're staying at I love the stores and the camp. I love Gould Academy and the Field House and all the other buildings. I love the T groups. I love the world N. T. L. I love the animals in Bethel. I love the accent. Everything that happens in Bethel. I'll really miss Bethel, Maine.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

There are some outsiders in our town whose job it is to organize a union in our mills. They promise many benefits to employees but they don't have to pay them. They do not remind the workers that they will have to pay more taxes on them as well as fees and dues to the union; nor that they will have lost their right to work if they don't want to strike if ordered; nor if the mill closes or is forced to quit by impossible union demands that they will have no wages to pay installments and daily family bills. This could happen, as most mills here have to operate on a small margin to stay competitive. Our workers still have a chance to consider this, but the owners because of union dominated unfair labor relations laws cannot discuss this with their loyal employees or put up any defense. Therefore shouldn't some public agency such as the Chamber of Commerce on behalf of our tradesmen or the B.A.D.C. on behalf of industry (which it is continually trying to bring into the town and keep in) come to the aid of the employer by pointing out the disadvantages to all concerned of unionism in our town economy?

Editor, The Citizen:
In my opinion, someday in the future a thankful people, in spite of lies spread about Socialism, will recognize the correct position of the Socialist Labor Party re the crazy mess that the world is in and rally around the Socialist Labor Party solution of building a new decent Socialist America.

Then all of us will be able to live and really enjoy life, instead of having to worry about jobs, being broke, the curse of racial hatred, and facing the constant threat of a horrible war of annihilation.

The Socialist Labor Party is the FOURTH oldest party in these United States. It was founded back in 1890 by DANIEL DE LEON, and is NOT to be confused with other parties. Readers who would like to know what Socialism really means, are invited to write for free literature to the SLP—61 Cliff Street—New York 38, N. Y.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to my friends, relatives, neighbors, and the Eleanor Gordon Guild for the lovely cards and gifts received during my recent stay at the Central Maine General Hospital and since returning home.

IF IT'S NECESSARY HERE —

JUST IMAGINE

Imagine that your salary is $8,200 a year—and you are almost $30,000 in debt.

Last year your debt increased by $390.

This year you are adding at least $700 to your indebtedness.

Your friends are warning you that you can't continue to pile up additional debt—that this is the road to financial ruin.

So you and your wife talk it over and decide to draw up a budget for next year.

But instead of reducing expenditures—or even holding them at their present level—you decide that you will spend $340 more next year than this year.

You reach this decision on the assumption—there is nothing definite—that you will receive a salary increase next year; therefore you plan to spend it.

Nearly everyone will agree that a family handling its finances on this basis is headed for serious trouble.

Yet, add seven ciphers to these figures—and you have the exact fiscal situation of the government under the Kennedy administration!

COUNTRY FLAVOR

GARDEN IN THE EVENING

There is more to gardening than planting seeds and harvesting crops. A true gardener feels reverence for the soil upon which all life depends; He knows he is working with life itself when he puts seeds in Earth's breast and nurtures plants to maturity.

In the heart of a rose or the blossom of a tomato, he sees beauty that helps to balance the scars and blights that man causes. When a summer's day is done and dusk is dropping over the countryside, a gardener likes to walk his garden and feel the blending of earth and sky, soil and plants.

There is a poignant interlude between dusk and dark when the clumps of white phlox are spots of soft growing beauty, when the light-colored zinnias are bright buttons against dark cloth. The light pink of

Sikeston, Mo., Daily Standard: "Try to be nice to everyone until you have made your first million—after that they'll be nice to you."

Electra, Tex., Star-News: "Instead of going socialist, why not get to bed at a reasonable hour, get up early, bathe, shave, put on clean clothes, eat a leisurely breakfast, and get to the job without rushing? I try it occasionally, and it makes me feel good all day."

gladiolus and the white patches of alyssum paint a picture against the dark hues of other plants.

It is good to walk between the rows of corn and listen to the crinkle of the leaves as they brush against one's coat, good to walk beside the tomato plants and inhale the pungent aroma, good to stand beside the trailing squashes and see the dark blanket of leaves covering the ground.

A garden in the evening is a peaceful spot in a rushing, tense world. Man strives to regulate his society and each set of additional rules seems to pull the web tighter and make the struggle more intense.

A man can walk a garden at dusk and shed some of the cares and problems that seem a part of daily living. Men will learn eventually that the Golden Rule is the only guide. But while Man learns how to live with others, he can catch a glimpse of life's deeper meaning when he walks his garden in the evening.

TODAY'S Meditation

Thursday, July 26

Read Luke 17:11-21

The kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost. (Romans 14:17.)

When I visited the elderly women in a ward of a county hospital, I was rewarded by the love of these people who were shut in. Many of the old people would pull me down to kiss me, since words seemed so inadequate. The families of some, I learned, had grown tired of visiting them. I realized anew that faith and works must go together to bring the kingdom of God into my own life and into the lives of others.

When we share the load that others bear, we find our own burdens are lifted. We represent Christ, and He never turns away from anyone in need. Nor should we.

As physical exercise develops strong muscles, so our work for God increases our spiritual power. We grow in wisdom, and our prayers are the genuine pleading of a child to the Father. The answers are miracles of God's love.

PRAYER: Our God and Father, take away from us all that is not in accordance with Thy will. Let us put self away, as we bend to Thy will for us. Strengthen us for the right, we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day
By expressing Christ's love to others, we strengthen the kingdom within them and ourselves.

TEST YOUR DRIVING I. Q.

Select the best answer.

Question: Which of the following is the most typical of the overemotional driver? (a) Boasting of breaking traffic laws. (b) Blowing his horn in traffic jams. (c) Double parking for his own convenience. (d) Driving at the maximum speed limit.

Answer (b) Uncontrolled emotions are a sign of immaturity. A baby does not control his emotions; he merely expresses them. Some persons are never more than adult-sized babies so far as emotional control is concerned. They may take any word or glance as a personal offense. They show temper, or sulk, or whine. Trifles seem important to them. We say that they "make mountains out of molehills." They just haven't grown up.

Overemotional, immature drivers are apt to do any or all of the following things: Get upset over trifles, or become nervous in unusual situations.

THE OLD PEABODY PEW, BUXTON LOWER CORNER, FRI.-SAT., AUG. 10-11.

The 73rd and 74th performances of The Old Peabody Pew by Kate Douglas Wiggin will be presented in The Tory Hill Church at Buxton Lower Corner (near Bar Mills) Maine on Friday evening, August 10th at 8 o'clock D. S. T., and on Saturday afternoon, August 11th at 2:30 o'clock, D. S. T.

This year the cast is entirely new and is under the direction of Mrs. Floyd Hannaford. The play is presented under the auspices of the Dorcas Society of Hollis and Buxton. The Dorcas Fair will be held on the Church Grounds Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock, D. S. T.

DON BROWN STUDIO

Tel. VANDYKE 4-2149

Lose their tempers and, consequently, their judgment. Express anger by driving recklessly.

Show impatience in traffic jams by useless horn blowing.

Flash their high-beam lights in the eyes of approaching drivers.

Talk loudly or use profanity. Resort to crowding and forcing others out of traffic lanes.

Continually complain and find fault with others.

Have you ever studied the champion athlete who, in action, moves faster and more accurately than the rest of his fellow athletes but at the end of the round or game period becomes perfectly relaxed and gives his opponent a friendly pat on the shoulder? Have you watched him return for the next round or game period as coolly efficient as ever? There are no hysterics, no grinding of teeth, no name calling—only calm, cool determination.

Compare this champion athlete with the overemotional, awkward, frightened inexperienced competitor who believes he must get "fighting mad" to win. He will never be any good until he overcomes this condition, and neither will the overemotional driver.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

Onarga, Ill., Leader-Review: "The dawn of the atomic age has ushered in new wonders and new terrors. In a curiously negative way, it also has pushed the world toward more responsible statemanship. The blasts touched off since Hiroshima have written fins to the dominance of affairs by positive, self-assertive men."

Jeffersonstown, Ky., Jeffersonian: "Indifference of state officials to the slaughter of 38,000 a year on our highways is paving the way to the licensing of drivers by Washington—and traffic enforcement by federal police—Arizona's Paul Fannin has told a conference of Western governors. But Commerce Secretary Hodges hinted at it 'way last winter. If we want a Federal police force with national jurisdiction, all we have to do is—nothing. If we don't, we'd better crank up our state traffic control machinery and start weeding out unfit drivers. This can only be done by hard-boiled examination and periodic re-examinations, both physical and mental. And time is running out."

VFW LADIES ANNOUNCE HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars announce the opening of its 28th annual National High School Writing Contest. The topic will be "What I Can Do For My Country."

The writing contest, first started in 1935, is intended to put before the student some problem of patriotism, citizenship or similar topic about which he must study and learn in order to write an essay.

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to enter the contest. National prizes are: First, $1,000 cash; second, $500; third, $250; fourth, $100 and gold medals, and 20 other cash awards for honorable mention. State and local contest winners receive additional Auxiliary awards which vary with the community.

Further information on the 1962-63 contest may be obtained from local Auxiliary units, or by writing to the Contest Department, VFW Auxiliary, 406 West 34th Street, Kansas City 11, Mo.
